Reopening Your Business: Buncombe County Presents Industry Town Halls on Phase 2 Guidance

Governor Roy Cooper is expected to announce this week whether the trajectory of North Carolina's public health data has improved, thereby enabling the state to enter Phase 2 of his reopening plan. Buncombe County public health officials are presenting a series of Town Hall events to discuss what's new in Phase 2 and specifics related to various industries. The first four online events are this Friday, May 22.

Owners and managers from the following industry sectors are invited to participate. The Zoom webinar events are free, but registration is required.
